Welcome to the 3rd edition of Equipment Sales.

We have been working hard to produce the third edition of the Equipment Sales magazine.

Each edition will have some editorial that we hope you will find interesting. This month we feature a Q&A with Euro Auctions resident auctioneer Lucas Schneider. Have a read and find out more about the life of a jet setting international auctioneer.

Other news from the Euro Auctions team is that we have been preparing for Bauma on 24th – 30th October. If you're attending the show, come visit our stand – B5.221. Our Territory Managers will be on hand to discuss any equipment needs you have - buying, selling or both. We're happy to have a conversation and a catch up over a coffee or beer.

We hope you like the 3rd edition and most importantly, find it useful in your search to find new equipment.

THE VOICE OF THE AUCTION

A vital component of all Euro Auctions sales is the person doing the actual selling - the auctioneer. Lucas Schneider is one of the resident auctioneers who regularly conducts sales for Euro Auctions. He's one of the American voices that can be heard when equipment is going across the ramp. Find out a little about more about him below.

Where are you from?

I live on a farm near Hermann, Missouri in the middle of the USA.

What made you want to be an auctioneer?

When I was a child, I used to attend car auctions with my father, horse auctions with my mother and antique auctions with my grandparents. It seemed like I was always at an auction. At an early age, I thought the auctioneers had a really neat job and I always had interest in becoming one, so when I was old enough, I went to auctioneering school and started my career.

You work for Euro Auctions, as well as clients back in the US – how does that work?

Although there are some auctioneers that work for lots of different companies, I only work for two entities, Euro Auctions/Yoder & Frey and the company that I and my wife own at home, Schneider Auctioneers LLC. Between the Euro/Yoder business and my own business I have enough work to keep my schedule completely full all through the year. Working for Euro Auctions affords me the opportunity to travel, and I regularly travel to the UK for the Leeds and Dromore sales and I also have conducted the other international sales like Brisbane. It all keeps me real busy.

How does Euro Auctions in Leeds compare to the auctions back in Missouri?

The main difference between Euro Auctions Leeds and the auctions taking place back home in Missouri would be the size. If an auction company at home has an auction 2-3 times a year where they sell 2-3,000 lots, they would be considered a big operator. Whereas in Leeds we're selling 5,000-6,500 lots 8 times a year! Additionally, back home in Missouri 90% of the auctions conducted would be with reserve, unlike Euro Auctions where everything sells without reserve. We have also modelled our business at home after Euro Auctions and we only conduct auctions without reserve, which makes us much different from our competitors.

What tips can you give to anyone buying at auction?

Do your homework! Come and inspect the machines in person so you know exactly what you are getting and so you can make informed decisions for yourself. If you're bidding in person at the live auction, make good notes ahead of the auction as we often have up to 40 machines that are the same make and model. Figure out ahead of times which machines are your top choices. If you can't be there in person Euro Auctions offer inspections. Take advantage of these and get a good look around the machine you are interested in.

How can sellers get more money for their equipment when selling at auction?

Clean them up before you send them to auction! A day or even just a few hours cleaning a machine inside and out can make a huge difference in price versus a machine that comes right off of a job site and comes across the ramp covered in dust, dirt or mud.

What is the strangest and the most expensive thing you have sold at auction?

Probably the most unique item I've sold was a 170-year-old church at home in Missouri. It was no longer an active church when we sold it, but very unique indeed. Besides some of our farmland auctions at home, probably the most expensive items I've sold at Euro Auctions would be late model dozers in Australia or maybe some of the cranes we sold at the famous liquidation auction of the Hewden company that we conducted at Newark UK in 2017.

How do you relax away from the 'ring'?

When I finally get home from traveling and when not working in our own business at home, I lead a very boring lifestyle. Spending time at home on the farm with my family is the most important thing to me. A quiet evening spent at home with my family, a cup of tea and a Frank Sinatra record playing is about the most relaxing thing I can think of.
